PRESS RELEASE

It will take generations to recover from Trudeau's 2017 Liberal Budget

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MARCH 23, 2017

SASKATOON, SK

"Canadians were hoping for a better outcome from the Liberal budget announced yesterday. At a time when Liberals are making life more expensive, Justin Trudeau could have offered lower taxes and a job creation plan that actually works.

The budget unveiled by the Prime Minister and the Finance Minister demonstrates very clearly that they simply don't understand Canada's middle class.

As the voice of the taxpayer I can't stand by silently while Justin Trudeau and these Liberals nickel and dime Canadians to death.

Budget 2017 is a laundry list of ways this Liberal government is going to scoop money from hard working Canadian taxpayers to help pay for their out of control spending.

There is no plan to return to balanced budgets in 2019 as promised earlier by this Liberal Government. In fact, they now plan to increase the deficit to a whopping 28 billion dollars.

They have absolutely shattered their own expensive election promise almost 3 fold.

It will take us generations to recover from this Liberal government's out of control spending and expensive promises.

As your member of parliament for Saskatoon-Grasswood, I have served as your strong voice in Ottawa and I will continue to be outspoken about this Liberal Government's harmful approach to the economy."
